

Anite Professional Services

Helping you get the best performance from your Anite testing solutions

Getting products to market quickly is important. However, making sure everything works perfectly before launch is vital. It is essential your tests identify issues early in the development cycle. Finding and solving problems rapidly will reduce your costs and give you a competitive edge. That's exactly where Anite Professional Services can help.

Our expert team will work with you to get the best from your Anite solutions. Perhaps you require packages of test scripts tailored to your specific needs. Maybe you're looking for help and support from consultants at your premises. Or you might want bespoke applications that allow your own test infrastructure to work effortlessly with our solutions.

Whether you require some or all of our solutions, Anite Professional Services will do whatever it takes to deliver the testing you require, so you can feel more confident about your products' success when you launch them.

How Anite Professional Services can help you

- Developing bespoke packages of test scripts to help identify issues and solve them early – saving you time and money, and maximising your return on investment
- Enhancing your test procedures and optimising Anite test solution productivity via engineering consultancy and support
- Developing bespoke applications that enable Anite solutions to integrate seamlessly with your test infrastructure.

Anite Professional Services enabled us to speed up our development of functional test scripts. This enabled us to get testing up and running on our new Anite system much quicker.

Chipset Manufacturer*

Example projects include:

- Test case and script development: working with customers to identify project requirements, formulate test specifications, create test scripts, and verify implementation with a pre-defined acceptance procedure
- Application development: delivering customised test applications, such as automation clients, that enable customers to double – and even triple – efficiencies, and achieve a great return on investment
- Replacing legacy test environments: reviewing existing protocol test processes, then specifying and implementing performance-enhancing solutions.

Anite

Delivering test solutions designed around you

Expert technical knowledge and testing solutions - most companies can help you in one of these areas, but only Anite can bring you a blend of both. Our teams comprise specialist engineers and consultants who will make sure your Anite solutions meet your specific challenges. So whatever service you choose, you'll receive the support you need to launch products quickly without compromising quality.

Onsite consultancy

Some requirements can be met remotely from our offices. Others might need our experts to work onsite with you. Whenever you need us, we're there. Our specialists will not only integrate seamlessly with your team, they will impart all their knowledge and skills to ensure your test procedures and Anite simulation environments exceed your expectations.

Script development

Our team will make your Anite solutions meet your exact testing requirements. For example, we can help you identify and solve issues early through the Development Toolset. To ensure your devices meet the demands of today's consumers, our team will also assist you with using the Conformance Toolset: the market-leading solution in 3GPP conformance testing, comprising thousands of test cases. What's more, we can ensure you enjoy maximum benefits from our SAS solution: an easy-to-use network simulator that accelerates your time to market.

Application development

Anite Professional Services can work with you to develop bespoke applications, such as automation clients and test scripts that interface with your own centralised applications. By doing this, we can push the boundaries of our solutions, delivering enhanced efficiency and throughput. This means you can identify issues, correct problems, design exceptional products, and launch them more quickly and easily than ever before.
